SENIORS SELECT VANCE PERRY PRESIDENT AT CLASS MEETING

Vance Perry, senior journalism major from Yakima, Wash., was elected president of the senior class yesterday in the special runoff election.

HILL WINS

Leroy Hill won the vice-presidency race from Jus Lundquist in a closely contested vote that was not determined until the last ballot had been tallied.

Signa Shaw was unanimously elected to the secretary-treasurer post, when Mary Lou Hoffman dropped out of the race. Frank Kallam was elected sergeant-at-arms, defeating Leo O'Grady.

"If the senior class expects to accomplish anything this year," stated Student Body President Bob Payne, "more fourth year men and women should take the time and effort to attend all class meetings."

LESS THAN FIFTY

The program planned for the day was omitted, when less than 50 seniors attended the election meeting.

Acting President Bob Payne appointed a committee of four to meet with the juniors today in Miss Dimmick's office, to discuss the Junior-Senior Mixer scheduled for Thursday night in the Men's gym.

Tau Delts Hold Pledge Smoker Tomorrow Night

All members of Tau Delta Phi, past and present, are urged to attend the neophyte smoker scheduled tomorrow night at the Hotel De Anza at 7:30, Darrell Pilgrim, chairman, announced yesterday.

Twenty nominees for membership to the fraternity will be guests. Refreshments and games will make up the evening's entertainment.

Final consideration of the pledges will take place at the next business meeting of the fraternity, scheduled Friday noon in the Tower, preceded by a luncheon.

Informal and formal initiations will follow within the next two weeks, according to Grand Magistrate Al Lindner.

DEAN PITMAN ISSUES DEADLINE FOR N.Y.A. CARDS

All men's NYA time cards must be turned in to Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman's office by 9:30 tomorrow morning, or the applicant will relinquish all claims to a pay check for the last work period, according to Pitman.

These cards must be signed by the student, his immediate supervisor and approved by the Dean before they are sent to the main NYA headquarters in Los Angeles.

According to Pitman, this is a final warning to any student or students who want to wait until the last minute before turning in the time cards.

Nygren Receives NBC Trophy For Outstanding Play

Bud Nygren, San Jose State's 1940 candidate for Little All-American honors, was awarded the National Broadcasting company's "Charley" as the "outstanding football player of the west" for his fine playing in the Butte and Logan games three weeks ago.

The selection by the NBC is made each week to the football player they consider to be outstanding for that week.

The "Charley," which stands about one foot in height, and has the player's name inscribed on it, will be on display in the trophy case in the Men's gym all this week.

Friends Plan Memorial To Gene Grattan

Friends and admirers of the late Gene Grattan have undertaken to perpetuate his memory in a memorial to his character, ideals, and interest in boys and young men.

Because of Mr. Grattan's close association with the group, the project considered most appropriate for the memorial is the boys' work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Dr. James DeVoss of San Jose State college, Herbert C. Jones and Lenard Dahlquist have been chosen as a committee to receive contributions for the memorial and as advisers on the project.

PROFESSOR BUSS LEADS CHAPEL

Professor Fred Buss of the Natural Science department will lead Chapel services to be held today from 12:30 to 12:50 in room 53. His topic will be possible applications of the Golden Rule under present world conditions.

All interested students and faculty members are invited to attend, according to Margaret Foster, chairman.

Beta Chi Sigma Terminates Rushing Season

Beta Chi Sigma, on-campus social fraternity, terminated its rushing season Sunday morning at its traditional breakfast when members voted the acceptance of 14 pledges, according to Pledge-master Charles Culp.

Pledges accepted by the Beta Chi's were Paul Stelling, Jim Strimpel, Ed Hinkle, Merlyn Muntz, Milt Purcell, Bill Whitehead, Lee Hansen, Ed James, Hubert Foskett, Frank Turbeville, Curtis Beacock, Bob Chute, Paul Gilmore, and Don Hass.

The first pledge meeting will be held Thursday evening at 1087 Carolyn avenue at 7:30 p.m.

Excursion Bus Tickets Sold By Controller

Bus tickets for the excursion to San Francisco for the San Jose State vs. University of San Francisco football battle are on sale in the Controller's office for $1, according to Don True, Rally committee head.

Buses will leave San Jose Friday at 6:00 from in front of the Student Union, arriving in San Francisco at 7:30. The fare includes rides directly to the Seals stadium where the game will be held. Kick off will be at 8:00. Buses will leave for San Jose 20 minutes after the close of the game.

Rally committee heads urge students to get their tickets early since buses will be ordered according to the number of tickets sold.

A program of recorded music will be held in the Quad on Wednesday, following which special data regarding the excursion will be given to students.

Tommy Taylor advises male students to bring rooters' caps to the USF game since only those with them will be admitted in the rooting section.

Ten Students Qualify For CAA Training

Ten San Jose State college students who were selected to take physical examinations in San Francisco last week for the controlled restricted commercial course (secondary course) under the Civil Aeronautics Administration have qualified for the training, Controller Neil O. Thomas announced yesterday.

A few of the students accepted must wait until they receive certificates for the aviation course they took during the summer session before they may start in the advanced program, however, Mr. Thomas said. Others accepted are scheduled to start training tomorrow.

Chosen for the training were Arthur Potvin, Enzo Uliana, William Evans, Tom Goodnight, Frank Kelley, Martin Wempe, Albert Seiber, Leo Sarter, Fred Frank and Raymond Tanner.

Instructors for the advanced course are Earl Bradford and Edward Hawkins, both of whom were recently re-rated for this training. Students in the advanced course will receive 126 hours of ground instruction and from 40 to 50 hours of flight instruction.

HE Faculty Holds Reception Tonight

Home Economics faculty members will hold a formal reception for Home Economics majors, minors and technical students from 8 to 10 o'clock tonight in Room 1 of the Home Economics building, says Miss Elizabeth Cameron, instructor in that department, who is chairman for the affair.

"This event is being held so that our students may become better acquainted with each other, and their instructors with whom they will associate as Home Economics students," Miss Cameron states.

JUNIORS, SENIORS MIX IN MEN'S GYM THURSDAY NIGHT

Although complete plans for the junior-senior mixer have not yet been announced it will be held Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the Men's gym, according to Mert Crockett, junior class president.

A committee of senior students including Gay Van Perre, Signa Shaw, Katherine Hughes, and Armand Green, will meet with the junior council committee at 12:30 today in the dean of women's office to discuss the affair.

The event will serve as a pre-game mixer before the football encounter with the University of San Francisco in San Francisco Friday night, Crockett said.

The annual stag affair starts traditional rivalry and social activity between upperclassmen which terminates in the spring quarter with Sneak Week.

An orchestra has not yet been selected but tentative plans have been made for an evening of dancing and entertainment, announces Crockett.

Freshmen and sophomores are warned to stay away from the gymnasium under the penalty of being punished by their superiors.

ORCHESIS HOLDS FINAL TRYOUTS

Final tryouts for Orchesis, women's honorary dance society, will be held tonight at 6:30 in the dance studio in the Women's gym, announces Miss Marjorie Lucas, advisor.

Tryoutees who need help with their original dance problems are asked to contact members Lorraine Jacobsen, Charlotte Veit and Glenna Bell Moening.

Women trying out are Jean Russell, Jean Crites, Martha Cauble, Heather Whitton, and Myrtle Peters.

Bonfire Group Fails To Attend Council Meeting

Members of the rally committee and the junior class bonfire committee failed to show up before the city council last night to propose a clean-up week and seek permission to hold a bonfire November 8, as had been announced by Mert Crockett, junior class president.

Crockett has announced tentative plans for students to collect bonfire material from the townspeople and transport it to the vicinity of the Spartan stadium, where the bonfire is scheduled to take place prior to the College of Pacific football game.

Permission must be secured from the fire department to stage such a bonfire, it is understood.

THREE INITIATED INTO NU IOTA CHI

Three new members were initiated into Nu Iota Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, Sunday night at a meeting at the home of Dwight Bentel, head of the Journalism department.

Bennie Frizzi and Conrad Lacy, co-sports editors, and Otto Talant, day editor, were the new men taken into the organization.

Thomas Leaves For Army Duty Sunday

Controller Neil O. Thomas, Captain, Adjutant General's Department Reserve, Army of the United States, will leave Sunday for one year of active duty at Fort Lewis, Washington, it was learned yesterday.

Bud Stewart, assistant controller of student affairs, will take over most of Thomas' duties at the college during the year he will be gone. Dean Paul Pitman will be the new adviser of the student council.

Thomas came to San Jose State college July 1, 1927, and has acted as student controller and adviser of the student council since that time. He is also secretary of the San Jose State College Corporation, and assistant co-ordinator of the CAA program. The controller was instrumental in changing the name of the cottage from Edwin Markham to Elizabeth McFadden.

Controller Thomas has invited the student council to dinner at Lucca's tonight for the last meeting which he will attend.

PLAY TICKETS ON SALE TOMORROW

Tickets for the Shakespearean comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing," to be presented in the Little Theatre, October 24, 25, and 26, go on sale in the Speech office tomorrow, according to Speech Secretary Helen Mineta.

Prices for the production are set at 25 cents for student body members and 50 cents general admission. Reservations will be taken announces Miss Mineta.

"Much Ado About Nothing," with Ellen Wylie and Major West in the leading roles, will open the twenty-ninth active year of production for the San Jose Players, campus dramatic group.

Settings for the play will be designed by Wendell Johnson and constructed by an all-woman stage crew under the supervision of Peter Mingrone.

POLICE CLUB MEETS TONIGHT AT 7:30

The Police club will meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Spartan Stags building, announced Guy Wathen, presiding officer of the organization, yesterday.

Each member is requested to bring five cents to cover the cost of refreshments.

The Case For A Bonfire . . .

To promote enthusiasm for the College of Pacific game, the juniors propose a mammoth bonfire on the eve of the contest in the neighborhood of the stadium.

We anticipate administrative opposition and for this reason wish to submit our arguments in favor of the idea. In the first place, the COP game will rouse more fire than any other contest during the year. It is the game toward which we point during the earlier part of the season. It is only natural for students to want to do something special to celebrate the occasion.

The city of San Jose is none too aware of the existence of the inner-city of 4000 plumped down in its center. Every opportunity should be taken to make San Jose more college-minded and rub out the city's idea that this is still a predominantly feminine teachers' college. Making the town aware of us as a full-fledged, live-wire college can only come through seeking the city's co-operation in our big events.

To solicit the townspeople's interest in us and our affairs was one aim of the rally committee and the junior class when it proposed "Citizen Clean-Up Week". The citizens will become aware of our bonfire and may come out to watch the pre-game celebration.

We feel that with careful planning and execution the event will prove an immense success and fulfill the dreams that high school students dream when thinking of college. We feel sure that city fire prevention officials would co-operate in making the venture absolutely safe.

So, while the juniors and the Rally committee perhaps were somewhat hasty in going ahead with plans before they received permission for the bonfire, we hope they are able to carry their idea through to an enthusiastic conclusion.

Our State Government

One of a series of articles on a phase of public administration.

By GEORGE R. REILLY

Q—When was the California Board of Equalization first established?

A—The first California Board of Equalization was set up in 1870, when gold mining was still the state's principal interest. However, it was subsequently abolished and other experiments tried. It was not until nine years later in 1879 that the pioneer lawmakers adopted a new state constitution, and included in it a State Board of Equalization as a Constitutional body.

Q—How many members are there on the Board of Equalization?

A—There are 5. Four of these are elected from the state's four equalization districts, and the fifth is the State Controller, who serves as ex-officio member by virtue of his office.

Q—How are the equalization districts determined?

A—When the State Board of Equalization was made a constitutional commission in 1879, it was determined that the equalization districts should be the same as the state's then four Congressional districts. Despite the vast increase in the Board's duties since that time, the districts remain the same and every four years the electors in these four districts select their representatives on the Board. The next Board election will be in 1942.

Q—Who are the present members of the State Board of Equalization?

A—Richard E. Collins, chairman, Redding, representing the Third Equalization district; George R. Reilly, San Francisco, the First district; Fred E. Stewart, Oakland, the Second district, and William G. Bonelli, Los Angeles, the Fourth District. Harry B. Riley, state controller, is the fifth and ex-officio member. Dixwell L. Pierce, Sacramento, is secretary.

For what purpose was the State Board of Equalization created?

A—Back in 1879 when California began to discover that the state was destined to become more than a mining boom center, and began to realize its vast agricultural, commercial, recreational and other possibilities, it became apparent also that some medium was needed for the equalization of inter-county assessment rates, so as to provide a uniform schedule throughout the state. Without reflection it can be said that assessors in various counties had as many ideas as there were counties as to how property should be assessed. To bring these views to a common basis and prevent property owners of one county from paying more or less than those of another, the state lawmakers created the Board of Equalization to equalize uniformly the assessments of all counties. At the time the state revenues were derived entirely from property taxes.

Q—Does the State Board of Equalization still function in that capacity?

A—While it is true that the Board has been assigned new and far more publicized functions to perform, the business of keeping a sharp check on county assessments is still one of the Board's main activities. It works in close co-operation with county assessors throughout the state, and has achieved notable results in this field. It derived its name from this work, and despite the many varied functions it performs which might more readily identify it as the California Tax Commission, its

Just Among Ourselves

THERE is something fine about the battles Britain and China are fighting against their brutal enemies these days. Personal affairs are swept aside, and those millions of brave men and women are standing staunch for human freedom.

The simple concerns of everyday existence lose their weight in such circumstances. The common good of all, the common good of humanity for centuries has become of first importance. Those fine people are thinking clearly, courageously, fundamentally, they have made the decision to resist to the end.

And what must interest and inspire us all is not only the spirit to resist, but the spirit to carry the battle to the enemy, to show him that he shall not have his way, that the safety and freedom of human beings must be respected.

It is truly a grand situation. How petty interests lose their importance in that light! What a thrill to take the larger view, to be willing to give up all for the good of all.

I can't help thinking endlessly of those fine people who go down to their deaths every day and every night, and for no reason over which they have any control. How horrible that a brutal maniac can manage to work his will upon so many innocent men, women and children.

I can't help thinking of the young men and the young women of college age, of the age when life begins to have supreme importance. How many of them have had their plans changed, their careers wrecked, have to learn a fighting trade far removed from any they had ever visioned.

Have you noticed the pictures of the young airmen? They look like boys. Slim, most of them, not large, but trained to do a job, and determined to do it to the best of their abilities and with a jolly smile turned in for good measure.

Most of those young fellows are heroes, most of them unsung heroes. To go up in a plane in the dead of night, to streak miles through clouds and storm until the objective is reached, and then to go diving down into the ruck of anti-aircraft fire—that takes courage. Trained as one may be, it still takes courage, courage and devotion.

To go up to meet whole fleets of enemy bombers and their supporting fighters, to meet blazing machine gun fire with your own blazing guns, that takes courage, a quality that can really be suggested by a much shorter word.

I hope we don't have to get into anything like that, and I rather think that we shall not, but if we do, I hope we may be ready with Recent figures show a vast upswing in United States exports to South American countries. It should be cheering both to business and the government, which has long fostered a closer tie among the nations in this hemisphere.

Lack of Tact—Without choosing political sides, it looks as though this encouraging report on pan-American trade further emphasizes Presidential Candidate Wendell Willkie's lack of tact in one of his campaign speeches, dealing chiefly with "foreign policy". In scoring the present administration, which has done the diplomatic maneuvering to strengthen ties with neighboring nations, Mr. Willkie stated that with the exception of Britain, this country stands "alone and friendless".

Not Called For—Why a possible chief executive of the United States should ignore our Latin American neighbors as being friends and of significance to the future of this nation is impossible to conceive. Mr. Willkie's pessimistic attitude toward the other countries of this hemisphere doesn't make good "horse sense". Disregarding the goodwill of the Latin especially since we've had to do everything from making loans to buying Argentine beef to obtain gives good reason for hard feelings among our southern neighbors.

It's Agreed—Good Republicans and Democrats alike agree that German domination of this hemisphere would make its first roads in South America and eventually pinch us off from the south. To guard against this danger, the government recently scored a diplomatic victory in promoting the passage of the Havana Act which stressed the importance of maximum co-operation and friendship.

SAN JOSEANS BRUSH UP ON DON ATTACK

SCRIMMAGE SCHEDULED UNDER LIGHTS TONIGHT

San Jose's Spartans, with probably their toughest game of the season coming up Friday night, went back to work with a lot of spirit last night, brushing up on their best offensive thrusts which they plan to throw against Coach George Malley's Dons.

Tonight the Spartans go through their only night session of the week, which will feature another rugged scrimmage centered around Don information garnered from the U.S.F.-St. Mary's clash Sunday by Coaches Warner and Winkelman.

PASS DEFENSE

From that game, the San Jose mentors learned that they must brush up on their pass defense, as the Dons have a likely attack with their two Petes, Franchesi and Visentin, on the throwing end.

That the Dons have improved considerably since the Stanford game was evident Sunday. They did a little shoving around of their own, although St. Mary's was the winner.

Twice, Don drives deep into Gael territory were stopped only by bad breaks and a determined St. Mary's forward wall.

Barring further injuries this week, San Jose figures to be at full strength for the Dons when the two square off in Seals stadium.

WILSON BACK

Jim Wilson, big 229-pound guard, expects to be in a suit tonight for the first time since the Utah game when an early season leg injury put him on the bench.

Wilson really blossomed out as a Spartan star for the first time in the USF game last year, and he expects to see a lot of action against the Dons along with Kenny Stanger, who has been doing a bang-up job of replacing Wilson.

Buell Clement, end, is beginning to feel his oats again after a leg injury which bothered him ever since the season got under way.

The Spartans came out of the bruising San Diego clash with the usual number of cuts and bruises, Bud Nygren taking the most serious loss—the cap of a front tooth.

Although the Spartans showed great improvement over their last home appearance, the coaching staff still figures they need a lot of blocking practice, which will be brushed up on tonight.

LINE CHARGE

Also, the players themselves weren't satisfied with their line charge, and know they will have to dig in harder if they hope to upset the Dons on Friday night.

USF holds the key to another ultra-successful Spartan gridiron season, and the Spartans, knowing that, are determined to relieve the Dons of that key.

Novice Boxers Train For Tourney Soon

The annual San Jose State college novice boxing tournament, originally scheduled for the last of this quarter, has been postponed until early in the Winter quarter, because of conflict with the football schedule, according to Coach DeWitt Portal.

Novice and freshman boxers are working out daily in preparation for the tournament, Portal said. Only beginning boxers are eligible, and beginners are urged to sign up on some varsity member's team.

The meet will be handled as in the past, with organization-sponsored teams coached by varsity men. Special rooting sections will be reserved for team supporters, and a team championship awarded. Winner and runner-up medals will be awarded in each division.

Any student interested in becoming a member of a student golf club meet at 12:45 today in the classroom of the Women's gym.

SPORT SLANTS

BY BENNIE FRIZZI

San Jose's future opponents batted almost 100 percent over the weekend, coming through with impressive victories over their opposition.

Only team to lose was University of San Francisco, who bowed to the Saint Mary's Gaels, 13 to 7, after a hard-fought ball game. Winners were Santa Barbara State, Fresno State, Loyola, College of Pacific, South Dakota and Nevada.

TOUGH BREAKS

In losing to the Gaels, U.S.F. was the victim of a couple of tough breaks. One of the St. Mary's scores followed the blocking of a Don punt on the U.S.F. 10-yard line. The other Gael touchdown came in the closing minutes of play with the score tied, on a run-back of a pass interception.

DONS MARCH

The Dons really played the Gaels off their feet. Right after the first St. Mary's score, U.S.F. came marching up the field to within 7 yards of pay dirt before relinquishing the ball.

The Dons displayed a smooth-running and passing attack, and promise to team up with San Jose on Friday night to put on one of the best games of the season for Bay Region grid fans.

TEXAS BEATEN

For the weekend winners, Santa Barbara had a tough time taking Cal Poly, 18 to 14; Loyola had it rather easy with Whittier, 18 to 0; Fresno State won from an invading West Texas State outfit, 15 to 6; College of Pacific was hard-pressed to beat the Cal Ramblers, 6 to 0; South Dakota took Doane (Nebraska), 25 to 0; and the University of Nevada gave indications of becoming the new high-scoring champs of the nation by dumping Southern Idaho, 61 to 0.

NEVADA SCORES

The Idaho victory brings the Nevada point total for three games to 114 points. The opposition has been able to score only 6 points. Nevada comes here for the season finale, which should prove a ring-dinger of a curtain engagement for San Jose's season.

As for opponents which San Jose has already defeated, Texas A. & I., which handed the Spartans their only defeat, beat Sam Houston college, 7 to 6; and Utah State took another one on the chin, this time from Colorado University, 26 to 0.

DEGROOT WINS

There must have been great joy in Rochester this weekend, for Dud DeGroot and his boys came home with Rochester's first victory in some time. All last year Rochester was able to score only 6 points, while their opposition ran up quite a sum. Saturday, DeGroot's outfit rang up 18 digits, to Denison's 6, thereby causing much joy in Rochester. Last week the New Yorkers scored 12 points, which now makes their season

YEARLINGS CONFIDENT OF FUTURE SUCCESS; FACE MARIN J.C. FRIDAY NIGHT

The Spartan yearlings went back to work yesterday confident they have finally reached midseason form, and that they can chalk up another win Friday night against Marin junior college.

At the present time, the yearlings have become a vital factor in the success of the varsity football eleven, and will continue to play a more important role as the season progresses.

VARSITY COMPETITION

Coach Fred Hamlow's freshman furnish the competition for the varsity squad prior to each game, and attempt to smooth out their own play sufficiently to give opponents on their schedule a stiff argument.

among the nations in the new world. Mr. Willkie's statement must make the whole thing sound a little insincere to the South American countries.

In the Mail—Spartan Daily reader asks why we don't run complete information on conscription rules and regulations. With newspapers all over the country running conflicting information on the matter, there is nothing we can do. Frankly speaking, some of the conscription officials are pretty vague about the whole thing themselves. About the only thing that can be said with any degree of certainty is that you have to register tomorrow or else.

On the Calendar—It isn't too early for campus groups to begin planning to send two representatives to the Organization Dinner, November 6. Past gatherings of this type, at which students are given full right to air their grievances to the student council, have given impetus to any number of important measures on the campus.

Out of last fall's dinner came the idea of the Book Exchange, which has proved successful and a permanent cog in the student body machinery. There also arose the usual number of scatterbrain ideas, but the good outweighed the bad.

Bureaucracy—The Juniors come up with something new in class government, with one representative from each of the 14 departments in the college to work as a council on activities during the year. Very convenient for the class president, but very confusing. Don't get tangled in the red tape!

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of Alpha Eta Sigma at the Hotel De Anza tonight at 7:30. All members please be present. — Emil Heidinger, President.

total 30, probably an all-time record.

And to prove that DeGroot's loss by one touchdown to Oberlin last week was to a tough outfit, Oberlin came through over the weekend to wallop Alleghany, 43 to 0.

Fresh from their 19 to 6 win over Modesto last week, Hamlow sent his frosh team against the varsity yesterday for a much-needed workout.

Satisfied with the playing of his starting unit last week, Hamlow indicated yesterday that he would make only minor changes for the Marin game.

HARDESTY STARS

The passing and kicking exhibition put on by Al Hardesty, who opened at fullback in place of injured George Morasci, gave the Spartan mentor two capable fullbacks for use in the Marin game.

Hamlow used George Klinger, Forrest Michaelis, and Tony Durate to call plays for the frosh last week, and will again give the signal calling duties to his halfbacks this week.

Buzz Perego has been moved to quarterback from right halfback, to strengthen the blocking spot left vacant by the injuries to Knute Pedersen and Vernon Cartwright.

NOVICE MAT TOURNAMENT SET FOR NOVEMBER 1

The annual all-college novice wrestling tournament, originally scheduled for the second week of November, will probably be moved up one week to November 1st, according to newly-appointed Coach Sam Della Maggiore.

JUNIOR PAAU

The change of dates is necessary because of the conflict with the Junior PAAU tournament on the ninth in Spartan pavilion. San Jose was awarded the Junior PAAU tourney last week when the University of California, originally scheduled to hold the meet, cancelled it.

With the new schedule, first competition for the Spartan grapplers will be in the novice, with winners competing in the AAU tourney, the following week. Freshman and newcomers are urged by Della Maggiore to try-out for these meets, as they are limited to inexperienced men. "No experience is necessary," he emphasized.

TEAMS VIE

Four teams coached by varsity wrestlers are already signed up for the novice tourney, and keen rivalry is expected before the championship is decided. Latest teams signed are Karl Kuhl's "Matadors," and Freddie Albright's soccer-men.

Mel Bruno, who has been holding secret workouts, seems to be the team to beat. Bruno has secured sponsorship of the varsity house, and promises a squad of Spartan athletic greats.

"BOXERS" COMBINE

Latest development is the combination of Davey Hines and Con Lacy as co-coaches of the "Boxers". Hines was originally scheduled to coach a separate team, but felt the combination was necessary to beat Bruno's strong aggregation. According to Hines, "the meet will be a two-team battle between the varsity house and the 'Boxers'. The other teams haven't a chance," he said.

All-White Police School Judo Team Schedules Meets

The first organized ju jitsu team in the United States, composed entirely of Occidentals, will make its intercollegiate debut at San Jose State college this quarter, according to Mel Bruno, Police school judo instructor.

Negotiations are under way for meets with judo teams from University of California, California Aggies, and California Tech at Pasadena, Bruno declared. At least one trip to Los Angeles has been provided for in the budget, he said, and competition is being arranged with several Japanese Judo associations.

Judo, or ju jitsu as it is commonly known, has been taught in the self-defense classes of the college for some time, but this will be the first intercollegiate competition in the sport, Bruno said.

The teams competed against will be composed largely of Japanese, Bruno declared. "San Jose is the only school with an organized white judo team," he said.

Vogue's Annual Contest Open To Senior Women

The opening of the sixth annual Prix de Paris contest sponsored by Vogue magazine and open to college senior women was released yesterday by Edna Woolman Chase, editor of the magazine.

"Our purpose in sponsoring the Prix de Paris contest," reports Mrs. Chase, "is to discover college women who have the ability to write and a flare for fashion. To us the contest is a means of adding new talent to our editorial staff."

To the winner of the contest goes one year's employment on the fashion staff of Vogue magazine. Second prize is a special Vanity Fair award of six months' employment as a feature writer on the magazine. There will also be five cash awards and numerous honorable mentions.

For further information regarding this contest, letters should be addressed to Vogue's Prix de Paris, 420 Lexington avenue, New York City, New York.

PHI EPSILON KAPPA EXPANDS BOY'S CLUB

The recreational Boy's club formed last year by Phi Epsilon Kappa, national honorary men's physical education fraternity, has expanded membership from the eight of last year to 21 this quarter, according to Leroy Hill, president.

LIMITED

At present, membership is limited to children of faculty members, or prominent business men interested in the college, but it is hoped to soon expand membership to include other children also, Hill said.

The club, modeled after the famous Harry Maloney's club of Stanford, is devoted to providing supervised recreation under the

SOCIAL PROBLEMS CLASS HEARS 1936 GRADUATE

Ben Beales, graduate of San Jose State college with the class of 1936, spoke to the Survey of Social Problems class of Mr. Cland yesterday morning on the "Educational Outlook of the Civilian Conservation Corps."

At the present time Mr. Beales is Educational adviser to the CCC group at Mount Pleasant, Utah, where he has been for the last 18 months. His group consists of 180 young men who range between the ages of 17 and 24.

"Out of the group of 180 young men we have a 100 percent mark in attendance in our educational work. This is quite a record as the average percent of men joining in the educational work is 92 percent," said Mr. Beales.

Mr. Beales pointed out that at his camp there were 84 classes being taught by a staff of 46 teachers, some coming from the camp, and others from the village.

After graduating from San Jose State college, Mr. Beales went to Stanford university and received his M.A. degree. He served as educational adviser to the CCC group at Los Vagos, Nevada, before going to Mount Pleasant.

FORESTRY CLASS VISITS NEW MILL AT FELTON

Dr. A. W. Jacobs' forest utilization class visited a small circular sawmill at Felton, last Friday afternoon. The mill, which has recently been put into operation, is owned by three local men.

While there the class studied the different parts of the mill and the part they play in the cutting of lumber and lumber by-products.

Plans are being made for the class to visit a larger mill in this region next month, according to Dr. Jacobs.

MARION JACOBSEN ELECTED A.W.A. REPRESENTATIVE

Marion Jacobsen, freshman, was elected AWA representative by members of Junior Orchestras, dance group, at a meeting last week.

Junior Orchestras, which meets every Thursday at 4 o'clock in the dance studio, is a period devoted to practice in modern dance techniques open to all women students, according to Miss Marjorie Lucas, instructor.

"The techniques presented are suited to the ability of the group, and dancers of all grades of ability are welcome," Miss Lucas said.

Pre-Legal Group Defers Election Indefinitely

Prospective young lawyers raised so many questions concerning the legality of the organization at a meeting of the Pre-legal club held yesterday noon that election of officers had to be postponed until a basis of voting and membership could be agreed upon, according to Owen M. Broyles, club adviser.

Austin Spenser, Harrett Mannina, and Carl Noddin were appointed to inquire into membership and to plan for a night meeting to be held in the last week of October.

To show that law students have a difficult task, Mr. Broyles issued the following facts: In 1940 a total attendance of 33,494 students was reported by 166 law schools. About 8500 new lawyers are admitted to practice each year, and there are only about 160,000 lawyers in the United States.

Wendell Johnson In Minnesota

Wendell Johnson, instructor in play production in the Speech department, left Friday for Minnesota to attend the funeral of his father, according to the Speech department secretary, Helen Mineta.

Mr. Johnson will return to school possibly by Friday of this week, according to Miss Mineta. During his absence his classes will be taken over by Hugh Gillis, head of the Speech department.

Camp Leadership Club Makes Plans For Supper

Camp Leadership club is holding a supper and an informal get-together October 21 under the direction of Miss Barbara Ross, adviser and women's P.E. instructor.

Students who are interested in attending the affair are asked to sign up either on the bulletin board in the Women's gym or in the science building before Friday night.

Students interested in summer camps, counseling jobs, or extra curricular experience in organized club work, should see Miss Ross, Dr. Rhodes, or any member of the club for detailed description of the activities planned for this quarter, announces Inola Ford, president.

Young GOP Club Meets Today

Members of the Young Republicans' club will meet today at noon in the Little Theater to make plans for fall activities, announces Dick Ofstad, president.

Plans include a debate, to be held shortly before the Presidential election in November, with two representatives from the campus Young Democrats' group, Ofstad says.

Campaign material for Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential candidate, will be distributed. Democrats as well as Republicans among the faculty and students are invited, Ofstad pointed out.

NOTICE

The College YW-YMCA discussion group on "Jesus as Teacher" is meeting every Tuesday (instead of Wednesday, as announced last week) from 5-7 around the fire in the Student Center. Bring a box lunch or a contribution to the Pot Luck supper. All men and women students are invited.—Clare Brown Harris.

Peterson, Rhodes Attend Council For Conservation

Sponsored by several civic interest clubs of the state, a conference of the California Conservation Council will meet at Asilomar on October 17 to 19. Attending from San Jose State will be Dr. P. Victor Peterson, head of the Natural Science department, and Dr. Robert D. Rhodes, assistant professor of Biology.

The conference is the first of its kind but is planned to continue annually. Although Dr. Peterson and Dr. Rhodes will attend for all three days of the conference, they will participate as leaders for Friday and Saturday. Dr. Rhodes will lead a group on a Nature Walk Friday afternoon while Dr. Peterson will act as chairman of a panel discussion Saturday morning. The topic as slated will be on the problems of conservation education.

Civic groups connected with San Jose State which aid in sponsoring this conference are the Sierra club and the State department of Natural Resources.

Wednesday Dr. Peterson will attend a convention of the Nevada State Teachers Institute in Reno. He is scheduled to address three groups during the day on the "Problem of Science Education in the State Schools" and "Recent Trends in the Field of Science Education for Elementary Schools". The latter topic to be followed by a group discussion.

That morning he will also speak on the "Importance of Science in Modern Society". This will be for the benefit of high school science departments.

Lost And Found Has Many Books, Unclaimed Articles

Several books and miscellaneous articles have been turned in to the Lost and Found department, room 2, according to Bill Evans of that office. They may be obtained there by the owners, upon identification.

The books include "Man and Society," "Statistical Methods in Education," "Economics," "Western World Literature," "Osteology Syllabus," and "High School Tests".

Among the miscellaneous articles that have been turned in are a hand woven purse, swimming caps, a tack remover, white belt, 3 rolls of art paper, 2 peasant scarfs, 2 pair of white gloves, a wine-colored hat and a blue beanie.

JAPANESE ARTICLES NOW ON DISPLAY

A native Japanese kimono and obi are on display in the showcase of the upper hall in the Home Economics building.

This exhibit was arranged by Miss Kaoru Kani, as part of her advanced clothing class work, according to Miss Pauline Lynch, Home Economics instructor.

"The obi, or sash, is one of the most exquisite I have ever seen," Miss Lynch exclaimed.
